Where the label goes on a handout or PDF

• The footer of every page, in 7 to 9 point type (already set on this document). A student who photographs or uploads any single page carries the label with it.

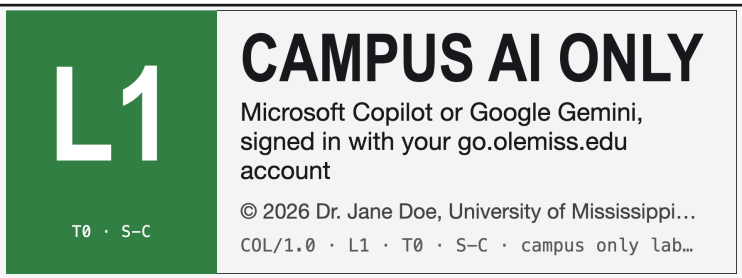

• The full label block once, on page one, so the badge and the two sentences are seen before anyone reads.

• In Word: Insert > Footer, paste the one-line version. In Google Docs: Insert > Headers & footers. Then export to PDF; the footer survives.

• Keep the grey notice text as text. If you paste it as an image, AI tools cannot read it.

1. "The Case for Four-Day Weeks"

The author argues that a shorter week raises productivity, citing Iceland and Microsoft Japan trials, and anticipates the objection that service industries cannot compress hours.
